

Hooks Picks Up First Tour Win

Posts Even Par 72 In Difficult Conditions

June 9, 2018

Oxford, Michigan – It doesn't happen very often, but rain, wind and cool temperatures finally tested the players during a Michigan Players Tour event, who battled through the rough conditions on June 9th at the 2018 Boulder Pointe Open.

And emerging with the win was Joe Hooks of Commerce Township, posting an even par 72 on the lengthy track, which is located just a mile north of downtown Oxford.

Second place went to last week's runner up James Holley of Howell, who posted a 74.

Boulder Pointe G.C. is a very demanding Conroy-Dewling Associates design, stretching over 7,400 yards from the championship tees. Several par fours on the course stretch to nearly 500 yards, making the course a big hitter's paradise. Driving areas on several holes are also tight, with ponds, forests, and areas of deep grass and fescue ready to gather your ball if you are slightly off line.
